

little Bear

Hajo Bücken

expansion by Jörg Domberger

Skunk & Eagle

Mama bear can meet 2 new animals along the way. The eagle can be useful, while the skunk makes it harder for us! Replace a forest animal (green backside) with the skunk and replace a mountain animal (grey backside) with the eagle. This keeps the number of animals in the game the same.

Did you find the Skunk?

If you turn over the forest tile with the skunk, that's bad news. Because of the smell you can no longer turn over the forest tiles that are closest to the skunk. These tiles remain closed for the rest of the game. If an adjacent forest tile was already turned open, it will remain open. So there can be a path next to the skunk and mama bear dares to walk past it. She can tolerate the smell.

Did you find the Eagle?

If you turn over the mountain tile with the eagle, you're lucky! The eagle helps us to discover the mountain area. You may choose one adjacent mountain tile, and turn it open. If there is no closed mountain tile next to the eagle, nothing happens.
