

Zoo Memo

Marleen van Hoornmyck

There are new animals in the Zoo! The 2 pandas and the parrot are coming to help us. While the tigers are making it harder for us. Shuffle the 5 extra cards through the rest of the cards. Place the cards as you wish. You can leave spaces open if you want.

Do you like Memory games?

Then Secret Door is definitely something for you! Together you are detectives trying to figure out which treasures the thieves have hidden.

But be quick because at midnight they will be back to get their hidden treasure. Can you find out what they have hidden?

Have you already met the Stack Family?

On a sunny spring morning the Stack family wants to play outside with their balloon and kite. Could it be that the toy box was not closed properly?

It seems the wind blew all our toys high into the tree.

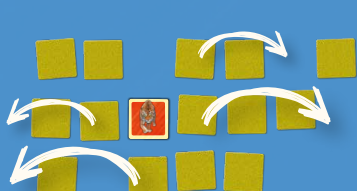

Help the parents and children climb on each others shoulders and reach everything before the sun sets.

Did you turn a tiger?

The tiger scares the animals, but less than the lion does: Only the animals closest to the tiger flee away. They jump over other animals. Take 4 times 1 card that is close to the tiger and place it on one Free spot in the playing field, away from the tiger. After that the tiger is removed from the game.

Have you turned over a panda?

If you've turned over a panda together with a small animal then put both cards in front of you. The panda protects and cherishes the small animal. They are not afraid of the lion or tiger anymore. Pay close attention when the brother / sister of the small animal appears, because when that happens you bring them home together. After that the panda is removed from the game.

If you turn over a panda together with a parrot, lion, tiger, director or other panda, then you turn the panda over again and choose another card.

Have you found the parrot?

Then place it above the path of the director, at the last tree. When the director arrives at this spot, together you decide what the parrot is going to do: have a chat with the director or a fly around above the Zoo. After that the parrot is removed from the game.

Have a chat with the director

Move the director one step back, so he can see the parrot and chat.

Fly around above the zoo

You can peek at three cards and turn them back.

Do you like a real challenge?

Every time a tiger scared the animals put the tiger back in the game.

The tigers never leave the game!
